

IN HENDRICKS' HONOR.

A Handsome Monument Unveiled at Indianapolis.

WITH VERY IMPOSING CEREMONIES.

A Monster Parade of Soldiers and Civilians One of the Features of the Occasion—The Prominent Part Taken in the Ceremonies by Mrs. Hendricks, Widow of the Man to Whom All Were Doing Honor—The Dedication Ode.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 1.—The capital city of the Hoosier state and the home of the president of the republic did honor Tuesday to the memory of one of her favorite sons, whose notable career as a statesman was cut short just as his life's work had been rewarded with the second highest office in the gift of the American people. Conspicuous as Thomas A. Hendricks had been in his life-time in the councils of one political party, there were no politics in the event of Tuesday. The business houses and private residences of the most earnest supporters of the party in power and the warmest friends of President Hendricks were decorated just as those of their political opponents. The various divisions of the parade began to form at their designated rendezvous, and at 1 o'clock, when Chief Marshal Gen. Fred Kneifer was satisfied that all was in readiness, the signal was given by the firing of seven guns by the veterans stationed at the north side of the court house square and the head of the column moved.

Cheers for Mrs. Hendricks. The Metropolitan police under command of Superintendent Travis led the way, with the chief marshal and staff and mounted escort close in the rear. First division, commanded by Col. W. M. McKee, was made up of the second regiment infantry, Indiana legion, the Indianapolis Light artillery battery, the Knights of Pythias and the Knights of Honor, and the uniforms of the military with the gay plumes and regalia of the civilians combined to present a most imposing spectacle. The second division was led by the Hendricks club, of Indianapolis, with J. B. Curtis commanding. Its members marched in a square as special escort to the carriage containing Mrs. Hendricks, President Rand, of the Metropolitan association, and Senator Turpie, the orator of the day. One continuous volley of cheers greeted the venerable widow as the carriage moved slowly from block to block and Mrs. Hendricks, who looked somewhat pale but fully composed, smiled and bowed her thanks to the right and left. Behind the carriage in columns of fours the members of the Young Men's Gray club, Cleveland club and Bynum club, all of Indianapolis.

Distinguished Visitors. In the third division, commanded by James R. Carnahan, were the visiting clubs from Indiana and other states. Following these in the fourth division were carriages, four abreast, containing Governors Hill, Campbell, Francis and Hovey and their parties. The committees of the Monument association, board of trade and Commercial club, state and Indiana state, county and city officials. The fifth division was composed of veteran soldiers' organizations, and the sixth and last of the city and ward organizations of Indianapolis. The sidewalks along the line of march were packed with people, who heartily cheered the visiting governors, the clubs from abroad and the other features of the parade that excited their enthusiasm. Each division had its bands of music and the numberless flags, banners and other devices that were carried tended to complete a magnificent ensemble.

Arrival at the Monument. It was 2 o'clock despite the fact that, owing to the extreme heat, the route had been shortened, before the head of the procession reached the state house grounds. Here almost as far as the eye could reach, the spectators were slowly massed. From the monument a platform had been erected for the speakers and distinguished guests, while to the right was an amphitheatre filled with 500 school children, the majority little girls in white. Company D of the Indianapolis Light infantry was posted around the upper base of the monument, while the Hendricks club formed a square around the lower base. The appearance of the carriages with Mrs. Hendricks and the visiting governors was the signal for the firing of a salute of nine guns by the city and county batteries, and the exercises were forthwith inaugurated with an overture by the band. Then the school children's chorus, led by Professor Henry M. Butler, sang "The Model Republic" with superb effect.

The Monument Unveiled. Governor A. T. Hovey called the gathering to order in very few words, extending a hearty welcome to the visitors from abroad, and paying a brief tribute to the memory of the man they had met to honor. He concluded by installing Hon. Frederick Rand, president of the Monument association, as presiding officer. The latter in turn introduced Rev. Joseph S. Jencks, of St. Paul's church, who led the gathering in prayer. After a selection by the Hendricks club band President Rand made a succinct historical statement narrating the circumstances under which the movement for the monument had originated, the amounts contributed by the several states and the total expenditures. The hymn "America" was then sung by the chorus and audience. As the last notes died away Mrs. Hendricks rose and gently pulled the rope, causing the great statue to recede and disclosing the life-size statue that crowned the pedestal.

"Hendricks" was fired by the battery, and "Columbia" was rendered by the combined bands. When silence had once more been restored, the following dedicatory ode, "Hendricks," written by James Whitcomb Riley, was impressively read by Professor Fisher of Hanover college. Pride of the Westland, and loved of the Nation! Leader invincible! Rules most wise! Severed nor flushed by the throng's acclamation.

Steadfastly pulsed as a star in the skies! Paths that were night to us—Thou didst make bright to us—Brightening still, till the transcendent shine, Shalt withdraw from us. Now thou art gone from us, Haunts thy deeds with a glory divine. Versed as thou wert in the lore of the ages, Voted as a master in lofty debate, Thine was an eloquence history's pages Rapturously whisper in vain to relate. Mute were the wonderful Pathos, or thoughtful Phases of disunion that ne'er jeers! Silent the dutiful Scorn, and the beautiful Tribute of tremulous sobbing and tears! Thine, then, the mead if a people's affection, Born above factional wrangle and fray, Shalt withdraw from us, Haunts thy virtues shall vanish away, Still in security Rest thy memory Fixed as thy monument, towering above—Ay, and outlasting it, All time declaring it, Bronze shall outlive it the legends of love! Contests of the Corcorans.

Following this "The New National Hymn" was rendered by the male chorus, and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" by the school children. Senator Turpie, the orator of the day, upon being introduced, was received with long-continued applause. After his address the orator received another ovation. "The True Patriot" was rendered by the male chorus, the audience and school children joining in the stirring strains of "The Star Spangled Banner," and with the pronouncing of the benediction by Right Rev. Silas Chaffard, bishop of Vincennes, the event of the day was brought to a fitting conclusion.

BIG INJUNS AT SUNDAY SCHOOL.

They Make a Peaceful Raid on Beecher's Old Church. BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 1.—The exercises of Plymouth church Sunday school were stopped Sunday afternoon when a large company from the combined Forepaugh and Wild West shows, including forty or fifty Indians in war paint and feathers, entered under the escort of Col. James L. Cooper, Capt. Bogardus, and his three sons. Some of the noted cowboys and Madams of the show were present, but the Indians attracted the most attention, especially Chiefs Black Bull, Bear, Short Horn, Kicking Horse, and Long Tooth and the squaws. The Indians appeared to be deeply fascinated with the singing of the children.

Short Horn Makes a Speech. Short Horn, the Blackfoot chieftain, thus spoke in his native tongue, the words being interpreted by Manager F. D. Yates: "It makes my heart feel glad to be here today. I think now that the great spirit is with the Indians and whites alike. I used to think the great spirit was only for the Indians. I began to think of this day as a day to be given to the great spirit." Rev. Dr. Abbott made an address telling the Indians how great a friend Mr. Beecher had been to their race. At the close of the exercises the picturesque visitors were conducted through the church and Dr. Abbott himself performed on the great organ for them.

MIGHT HAVE MADE A FORTUNE.

A Georgia Planter Who Spotted a Real Beard Fifteen Inches Long.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 1.—Miss Eliza Phinson, 40 years of age, and well known because of her luxuriant growth of beard, died at her home three miles from this place Monday. In make-up she possessed every feature of a man, was 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighed 175 pounds. When a girl she was troubled a great deal with rheumatism and as a means of relief used poisons pretty freely. These were bound around the lower jaw. This treatment was kept up until it was discovered that unless the poisons were discontinued she would have a full beard.

Wouldn't "Go for a Freak." The poisons were left off, but this did not stop the growth of a short black beard that had appeared on her well-rounded cheeks. This was mortifying to the family, and shaving only increased the growth. Finally all hope of stopping the beard was abandoned, and it was allowed to grow. For twenty years she has worn a black beard fifteen inches long. Naturally such a freak was sought after by the showmen, but she invariably refused all offers. She was exceedingly modest, and always wore a bonnet to hide her beard as much as possible. She was never married.

Rockefeller's Generous Gift.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 1.—John D. Rockefeller has just given $100,000 to the Baptist Educational society, which has its headquarters in New York, and was formed for the purpose of aiding needy institutions of learning under Baptist control. Mr. Rockefeller two years ago gave $100,000 to the society. His donations are so conditioned that the society must raise from other sources five times the amount given by him. Since his original donation $600,000 has been raised, which so pleased Mr. Rockefeller that he gave $100,000 more. This is exclusive of the $500,000 given to the Chicago college.

Forged an Order on a Church.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., July 1.—Edward M. Doyle is under arrest here charged with forging and larceny in Oregon. Doyle secured a contract to build a home for the St. Mary's Roman Catholic church at Beaverton, Ore., and presented to the bishop a forged order for $1,000, purporting to come from the church. He is said to have secured about $5,000 from other parties through fraud, and is also said to be a bigamist, with three wives living.

American Not Always Citizens.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., July 1.—Two men, who were never out of the jurisdiction of the United States, and whose parents and grandparents clear back were absolutely Americans, were made citizens in a court here Monday. They are S. I. Foreman, a Cherokee, and J. H. Clawker, a Choctaw Indian. They took the required oath, and were given papers.

Hankers for an Irish Name.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 1.—A German scarcely able to speak a word of English, has applied to the circuit court to have his name changed from Maximilian Edward Snikup to Maximilian Edward O'Hoolley. He is understood to be an applicant for a place on the force, hence his yearning for an Irish name.

THE WASHINGTON WIRE.

Notes of Interest from the Capital City.

WHAT IS BEING DONE IN CONGRESS.

The Senate Passes Without Division the Bill for the Admission of Idaho into the Union and the House is Still Debating the Federal Election Bill—Favorable Report on the Bill to Pension Army Nurses.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The senate Tuesday morning passed senate bill to authorize the leasing of school lands in Oklahoma. Plumb explained the bill. The leases are not to be for a longer period than five years, and the necessity for the bill arises out of the fact that homesteaders have settled upon these lands not knowing that they were school lands, and that special agents from the general land office have been serving notice on the settlers to remove from the lands immediately. Dawes, from the conference committee on the legislative bill, reported that the committee had been unable to agree with the house on the bill, the particular item of disagreement being that of clerks for senators and their compensation. He doubted if any agreement could be reached on any thing but the house bill. After some discussion a new conference was ordered.

A report of the conference committee on the District of Columbia appropriation bill was presented and discussed, the subject being street railroad fares in the District of Columbia. The report was disagreed to, and a new conference committee appointed. A deficiency bill for the pay and mileage of senators was reported and passed. A conference was ordered on the agricultural appropriation bill. The Idaho bill was taken up and Vance made a long speech in opposition to the bill. He claimed that the proper constitutional steps by the people of Idaho for admission to statehood had not been taken, and that the territory did not have a population sufficiently large to entitle it to admission to the Union. The bill was passed without division.

In the House. The house, immediately after the reading of the journal, resumed the debate on the federal election bill, the pending amendment being that offered by Liebfach of New Jersey, providing that the chief supervisor of election for each judicial district of the United States shall take such action as is requisite to secure such supervision in every congressional district as may be required. The amendment was rejected—yeas 132, nays 188. Hemphill of South Carolina offered an amendment eliminating from the bill the provision for the United States boards of canvass, and providing that the returns of the electoral college shall be sent to the president of the United States. The amendment was rejected—yeas 132, nays 188. Hemphill of South Carolina offered an amendment eliminating from the bill the provision for the United States boards of canvass, and providing that the returns of the electoral college shall be sent to the president of the United States. The amendment was rejected—yeas 132, nays 188.

To Pension Army Nurses.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The house committee on invalid pensions has ordered a favorable report on a bill prepared by Belknap of Michigan (by request of the committee) to authorize the secretary of the interior to issue orders for the payment of pensions to army nurses. The bill provides that all women employed by the surgeon general of the United States as army nurses or otherwise officially recognized as such during the war of the rebellion, and who rendered service in hospitals, camps, or on the battlefield, for a period of six months or more, and who were honorably discharged, and who from the results of such service, or the infirmities of advancing age, are unable to earn their own support, shall receive a pension of $12 per month.

Clara Refuses to Vacate.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The order issued by Speaker Reed for the removal of all stands in the corridors of the house went into effect Tuesday. Two of the stand keepers refused to be evicted. They will be disposed of by force if necessary. One of these was Clara Morris, the old French woman, whose notion stand has been a familiar object in the Capitol for several decades. She was on hand bright and early Tuesday morning, and announced her intention of holding out against Speaker Reed and the whole Capitol police force. A number of years ago the old woman succeeded in retaining her stand in the face of a similar order.

Bills Approved by the President.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The president has approved the naval appropriation bill; the invalid pension appropriation bill; the postoffice appropriation bill and the joint resolution providing temporarily for the expenditures of the government.

A Mysterious Disappearance.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 1.—Charles Benson of the Scandia bank in Minneapolis has been missing since Wednesday last. On the evening of his disappearance, just as the safe was being locked, he entered it and took a package containing $4,500 in bank notes. He has not been seen since. He was a much respected man, having been employed in the bank for six years as book-keeper. He was of good habits and the cause of the deed is unknown. He left a wife and two children a comfortable home.

A Serious Mistake.

LONDON, July 1.—The Times, explaining the blunder made by it in reporting the suspension of payment by the National bank at Buenos Ayres, instead of announcing, as should have been the case, the suspension of its quarterly dividend, attributes it to errors in punctuation of the cable dispatch as delivered at its office. The Times expresses regret that the mistake so seriously alarmed the stock market.

Labor Troubles in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 1.—About 500 metal cornice makers in this city went on strike Tuesday for an eight hour day, 40 cents an hour, and to enforce other demands. One thousand dock laborers are also out for an advance in wages.

Fifteen Horses Cremated.

BALTIMORE, July 1.—The heavy and boarding stable of Griffin & Manion on North Eutaw street was burned Tuesday morning, along with fifteen horses and some carriage. Loss, about $60,000; insurance, $60,000.

THEY ARE ALL DEAD.

The Victims of the Debarber Bombing.

DUNBAR, Pa., July 1.—At 4 o'clock Tuesday morning the opening into the Farm Hill mine was completed and the air let out. It was found to contain 90 per cent. of black damp. At 4:15 a. m. all of the remaining party came out and the huge fans were started to drive out the foul air from the mine to make further exploration possible. At 9 o'clock the fans were slowed down and twenty selected volunteers entered for the purpose of determining the fate of their fellows. Volunteers were plentiful, the greatest difficulty being in keeping them outside.

The Victims All Dead.

Thirty coffins had been placed within the entry to the mine and every preparation made for any emergency. A corps of physicians, with an abundant supply of remedies and restoratives, were within a moment's call. After about three hours Walker stepped from the mine and said the miners in the pit of the Hill Farm mine are all dead. The smoke is so dense in the mine ten feet from where the wall was broken into that no one can enter or breathe in it. The men who start again when another effort will be made to enter the mine and take out the bodies.

A NEW KIND OF GAME BIRD.

China Favors Sportsman with Something to Shoot At. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 1.—Last fall Dr. W. O. Blaisdel, of Macomb, secured from Oregon two pairs of Chinese pheasants and turned them loose. Eight years ago the state board of agriculture of Oregon imported from China eleven of this species of grouse, and with the common American grouse. These birds hatch three broods of fifteen birds each per annum, and seem particularly well adapted to this climate. They furnish good shooting, and are much more difficult to kill than quail, pigeons, or woodcock.

Meeting of Music Teachers.

DETROIT, July 1.—The convention of the National Music Teacher's association began here Tuesday morning with a business meeting in the Detroit Opera house. President Angell of the university of Michigan delivered an address of welcome to the music teachers, and was responded to on behalf of the association by President A. B. Parsons of New York. The questions of a change of name of that association to "The Association for the Advancement of Music" and for the location of next meeting were referred to appropriate committees. The morning work was ended with a concert of music by American composers.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, July 1.—A band of desperate counterfeiters was arrested on a charge of passing United States officers. They had been defying the authorities along the river for weeks, and kept the officers at bay with firearms. Two of the men were surprised while rowing to the boat. Those in the boat were soon captured, including three women, who had shown the counterfeit money to the men. A terrific thunder storm was raging at the time, and the women were more afraid of the lightning than of the guns of the officers.

The Result of Foolishness.

ALEXANDRIA, N. Y., July 1.—A drowning accident occurred opposite Brookville Sunday evening. William Castleman, John Mayer, Annie McMahon, and Annie Graham were out rowing. Castleman stood up and began rocking the boat. Suddenly it capsized, and the whole party were thrown into the river. Mayer and Miss Graham were rescued, but John Castleman and Annie McMahon were drowned. The water is 110 feet at the scene of the accident, and it is not likely that the bodies will be recovered very soon.

Destructive Conflagration.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 1.—Appeals were received here Monday from Troy, Ala., for aid from the fire department of this city, stating that a fire was raging in that town, and had got beyond control of the local fire force. Fifty firemen with a steamer and hose truck left here in response to the call. The latest advice received here at the effect that half the town has been burned, and the flames checked. The loss is estimated at $200,000. One man was fatally injured.

Horrible Treatment of a Woman.

BLOOMING, Ohio, July 1.—White-Caps visited the house of Sarah Miller, a partially demented woman with an alleged unsavory reputation, forced an entrance, and after stripping her, doubled her body with lead and threatened her with a dose of feathers if she did not leave the village at once. She left, going to Attica, where she is said to have employed an attorney to prosecute the case against several of her assailants, whom she claims to have recognized.

Flag Raising at Mattoon, Ill.

MATTOON, Ill., July 1.—A large crowd of school children, Catholic knights, members of the Grand Army of the Republic and citizens assembled at the parochial school, in this city, in the evening to witness the raising of a large flag donated to the sisters and scholars of the school by the C. K. of A. Father Crowe, Senator Lehman and the Hon. Horace S. Clark made short addresses. This is the first flag raising over a school building in Mattoon.

Poisoned by Her Husband.

CARLSBURG, Pa., July 1.—An investigation by District Attorney Maust, Coroner Davis, and a jury has resulted in a verdict that Mrs. Kampfer came to her death by poison administered by her husband, her husband. A post mortem examination produced testimony damaging to the husband.

Better Than a Gold Mine This Weather.

MANISTE, Mich., July 1.—While workmen were excavating near Canfield's mill Monday they struck a snow bank buried under eight feet of gravel. A large number of persons went out to see the novel sight of a snow-bank with the thermometer at 90 degrees.

Gathered Him Up in Fragments.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Melville Predenberg played with a can of gunpowder on Lexington avenue Monday morning. Somehow he got into it and the police carried home fragments as they found at the 18-year-old victim.

FORMED A BIG TRUST.

Organization of Importers of Plate Glass.

BIG PILE OF MONEY REPRESENTED.

The Object of the Association Is to Bring German Looking-Glasses into More General Use in This Country—Semi-Annual Settling Day in New York—Interview with John L. Sullivan—Gotham News Notes of General Interest.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Representatives of seven concerns engaged in the importation of plate glass met in this city Monday and effected an organization for business under style of "The German Looking-Glass Plate Company." The firms represented are said to control a total capitalization of $100,000. They are as follows: Bondit, Drey & Co., Semon, Bacha & Co., B. Binwanger & Co., Van Horne, Griffon & Co., Albert Arstein & Co., Sigmund Cohen of this city, and Hills, Turner & Co. of Boston. The new enterprise has been incorporated at a capitalization of $600,000, with the privilege of increasing the amount whenever the corporation imports under such a step advisable.

Object of the Association.

Operations began at 103 to 114 Wooster street. The members of the various firms enter the new company individually, so that the private business of each concern represented will not be directly involved, but it is understood that the corporation will assume the functions of agent for all of them, so that a considerable percentage in the cost of importation will be saved. Mr. Drey said that there would be no attempt to increase the price of plate glass, the object of the association, besides economy in management, being to bring about a more general use of German looking glasses in this country.

Met Day Through the Combine.

Ninety-five per cent. of the looking glass plate made in Germany comes from Fourth, Bavaria. It is the gossip of the trade, and not contradicted by the members of the new corporation, that the Fourth manufacturers are directly interested in the combination, and have agreed to sell no looking glass plate to American dealers except through the combination, as their agents.

SEMI-ANNUAL SETTLING DAY.

Clearing Up the Business of the Last Six Months in New York.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Monday was semi-annual settling day in New York, although it will take most of July before the business of the last six months is entirely cleared up. It would be practically of little avail to undertake the work of estimating the amount of disbursements to be made in July, but in view of the large increase in the issue of railway bonds and in the securities of various industrial corporations made last year, it will be safe to say that the amount returning to investors in July will show a great increase over that of the corresponding month of 1889, and will be still larger than the payments made in January, 1890, when it was estimated that the grand total of money obligations falling due was not far from $100,000,000. The extra dividends of the New York Central were paid in January, and this of course would tend to make the disbursements of that month larger than those in July, but, on the other hand, the amount paid this month will be swelled by reason of the fact that the Atchison and several other companies have resumed the payment of their interest obligations in July.

HAS HAD ITS DAY.

Interview with John L. Sullivan on the Prize Ring.

NEW YORK, July 1.—John L. Sullivan is of the opinion that prize fighting has seen its day in this country for a time, if not for good. The champion said: "I think the fatal fight at the Golden Gate Athletic club, San Francisco, is largely responsible for the reaction against prize fights. Nearly every state in the union has something to say on the subject now, and the reaction has commenced to preach against it. In view of the recent developments I think I am safe in saying that it would be next to impossible to successfully bring off a big prize fight for some time to come. I shall not fight again unless I am guaranteed that there will be no interference by the law. I would like to meet Jackson, and have said that I would do so. It would be impossible to bring the battle off in California without getting into trouble, and Jackson's refusal to fight anywhere else makes our meeting extremely doubtful."

Marriage of John Claffin.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The announcement of the marriage of John Claffin, the head of H. B. Claffin & Co., of this city, was a genuine surprise to the dry goods trade, as, except for his personal friends, nobody had any idea that he entertained matrimonial intentions. Mr. Claffin's bride was Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart Dunn, the daughter of W. & Dunn, former money maker of the firm of H. B. Claffin & Co., who died in Europe three or four years ago. She is a daughter of the late John James Stewart, of Louisville, Ky., and is about ten years younger than Mr. Claffin, who is in the neighborhood of 40. The wedding took place Friday last at Montevideo, Cal.

Convicted of Conspiracy.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Thomas Moschell, judge; Thomas Fallon, clerk, and James Hart and J. Thomas De Raney, inspectors, who composed the election board in the First precinct, First district, in Jersey City, where the big ballot frauds were committed, were convicted Monday of conspiracy. There were nine Democrats on the jury and three Republicans. All of the jurymen were business men. Judge Lippincott will sentence the convicted men on Monday. The maximum punishment for the crime is two years in state prison and $500 fine.

Just in Time for the Small Boy.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The ship Great Admiral is now unloading a cargo of 4,000,000 bunches of firecrackers. She was 104 days on her voyage from Hong Kong. Previous to her coming, there was a decided corner in firecrackers, due to the recent loss of the ship Reporter, which had a large cargo of Chinese fireworks.

Robert Gorman, the colored doorkeeper at the executive office at Springfield, Ill., since the inauguration of Governor Cullum for his first term, died Monday after a lingering illness, of consumption.

THE NEWS IN BRIEF.

William Koch, a mill hand, of Piquette, Iowa, was crushed to death Monday day beneath a 800 pound truck, which fell upon him from a twenty-five foot elevation.

Peter McCain's dead body was found near the house of Bud Anderson, near Benton, Ky. Mrs. Anderson says she killed him for slandering her.

In the past three years Pasteur treated 7,983 persons bitten by mad dogs and only fifty-three died.

John Sparks was killed by his brother-in-law, Henry Wright, at the residence of the latter, south of Chesterfield, Ill., Monday morning. The men had quarreled and began to fight. Wright attacked Sparks with a razor, slaying him across the chest and arms. The murderer fled.

Conductor E. W. Schoenberger, of the Illinois Central, was struck by a low bridge near Epworth, Iowa, Sunday, and instantly killed. He leaves a wife and three small children at Waterloo.

Edward A. Schallar, of Quincy, Ill., aged 31 years, was drowned Monday while bathing.

The census returns show the population of Aurora, Ill., to be 19,830, a gain of 28 per cent.

In Germany they are making tea from starbany leaves. It closely approaches the Chinese article.

The Iron-Car Company of New York, which failed about six months ago, is to be reorganized and creditors will be paid in full.

Miss Nora Shankland, while bathing in the Paw Paw river near Benton Harbor, Mich., was drowned.

Mrs. Gill of Carthage, Ill., not of Chicago, was a lady who met with an accident when she was using the "Life Preserver" in which Mrs. Congrove of Chicago and Mrs. Wolf of Newark, N. J., were killed. Mrs. Gill's leg was broken.

Cattle shipments from the Cherokee strip have commenced.

A Faith-Curist Dangerously Ill. PITTSBURGH, July 1.—The Rev. Father Mollinger, the faith-curious whose reputation extends throughout the whole United States, is lying at the point of death and will not likely recover. He attended 10,000 people St. Anthony's day, but the strain was too much for him and he broke down. His friends have not given up hope that he will recover, but do not anticipate his immediate demise. Father Mollinger is said to be worth nearly $50,000.

Very Dry in North Dakota. MINNEAPOLIS, July 1.—The Journal's Blamark, N. D., special says: Prohibition went into effect in North Dakota Tuesday. Not a drink can be had in Blamark for love or money. Very few saloons have gone out of business entirely. The saloon-keepers closed their doors and are now waiting for the arrival of invoices of original packages, when they will again resume.

Bolter Makers on Strike. PITTSBURGH, July 1.—All of the bolter makers, blacksmiths and helpers employed in the bolter shops in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, except in the two shops of James Reese and one shop of Dougherty & Morrison, went out on a strike Tuesday. Twenty shops are closed and about 2,000 employees idle. They demand a nine-hour day with ten hours pay.

Sentenced to Prison. TOLEDO, Ohio, July 1.—Edgard Van Hoesen, ex-cashier of the Toledo National bank, who was convicted on June 30 of perjury in connection with a shortage of about $15,000, was Tuesday morning sentenced by Judge Hicks in United States district court to five years imprisonment at hard labor in the Ohio state penitentiary.

ENFRANCHISE YOURSELF.

It is really refreshing to get hold of a republican now and then who sincerely believes that the policy of the McKinley bill is a popular thing in the state of Illinois.
The Rep found such a rare bird and at once put him in sole charge of its editorial column. The Rep did well, such men are scarce even among republicans, and when one of them is found he should be put to the front. His evident sincerity may conceal a lot of the hypocrisy of the party yelpers who stand behind their tickets made out in advance. The man who is now on the Rep gives every evidence of believing that taxation is the road that leads to salvation. A great many of them preach this doctrine; but we think that Dr. Calhoun is one of two or three men in the state who put any faith in it while at their private meditations. The names of the other two men we have not at hand; but we will be good enough to suppose their existence
in order that the good man on South Water
may have the pleasure of imagining company.

The new Rep editor is so strong in his economical faith, or perhaps schism would be better, that he is after weaker men with a club. There was a time when the very religious people were ready to stone those who did not think with them. But all that kind of persecution has passed out of fashion. Now we have the economical enthusiast who announces that he will go after Farwell's scalp if the junior senator refuses to fall down and worship at the shrine of McKinley and some others who are patriots for the paying advantage there is in it to them. Senator Farwell may not hear of this crusade against him until it is too late to take any steps to set himself right with the party.

The Chicago Tribune claimed to have information that Farwell would join with some other western Senators to beat the tariff bill that is now before the Senate.
The Rep says, "the chances are The Tribune will be disappointed in this matter."
In this South Water is probably correct.
There is no suspicion among our people that Farwell is a big enough man to rise above
the law of a party caucus and throw his vote for what he understands to be the interest of the people. And The Rep cracks the party whip at him. It says, "the republican party will not take very kindly to such a course on the part of Senator Farwell." By republican party in this instance is meant the handful of fellows who run things. The body of republicans in this state would be very well pleased to have Farwell's assistance in warding off higher taxation, but what have the body in that party to do with a U. S. Senator? They are told that the naming of such a man is none of their business. Farwell knows very well that the most worthy sentiment among the people of his party in Illinois is in favor of tariff reform in the line of reduction.
But notice is served on him that this won't go with the leaders; and a personal of the doings of the late republican state convention will inform Mr. Farwell that it is to his leaders alone he must look for his re-election. An ordinary republican who will wish to vote in a way his conscience would be satisfied in the Senate must break away from his party.

The Rep gives a reason why Farwell may want to vote against the McKinley bill. It says that he "could only be prompted by his interests in the business of importing for own goods." This is a queer reason coming from Dr. Calhoun. We all remember the time when he talked for The Dispatch.
It was then his contention that the foreigner paid the duty. Has the mind changed its thought with change of streets?
If it is true that the foreigner pays the duty, what interest can Farwell as an importer have in releasing it? The idea is now given out that Farwell pays the duty, and that he might like the vote against the McKinley bill in order to remove that burden from his business. The last notion is much better than the first. The change of streets was a good piece of mental exercise. If the Doctor will make another move and come out on Prairie Avenue, he will be in shape to comprehend that Farwell not only pays the duty, but that he also charges it up to the consumer. Just another change, Doctor, and you'll be all right.

The Rep further informs us that "the republicans of Illinois are not made of the stuff that will be attracted to the democratic theory of political economy for the accommodation of Mr. Farwell or any other interested party." In this case again we take it that the term, "republicans of Illinois," includes only those who will go to the legislature; for it is only to those few Farwell must look for his political future.
Taking the term in this restricted sense, it gives us pleasure as democrats to remark that The Rep is again right. Under the term, "any other interested party," may come the people of Illinois. And they are the interested party in this bill. But the restricted republican party of Illinois that has to do with the election of a U. S. Senator is not naming a man in the interest of the people. This restricted crowd will name a man who is acceptable to a half-dozen barons in Pennsylvania. Should we send out to Pennsylvania and get six of its protected lords and ask them to name our Senator, they would crack the same whip over Mr. Farwell The Rep is now using The people of the republican party in Illinois might be pleased to have someone named as Senator who would endeavor to legislate in their interest; but we have the assurance of the chairman of the republican state convention that it is none of the people's business. As they have no vote in the matter, they must not expect representation.
When it comes to the election of a U. S.
Senator they are disfranchised. The man who is elected is bound to respect the wishes of the favored few who have a vote in his case. If the people of the state desire to have their wishes respected by Senators, they must make themselves electors.
While they are satisfied with the Chinaman's disfranchisement for they get such treatment as goes to the Chinaman.

If Farwell votes against the McKinley bill, we are assured by The Rep that the republican members of the state legislature will vote against him. We thought that Farwell might respect the wishes of the people of this state and thus make himself stronger for the coming fight. But now, if he votes for reform he is to be killed. He can't make his case stronger with the people of his party, for they have nothing to do with it. The wise man in that party will put himself where he will have something to say. This threat from the favored few only shows the great necessity of popularizing the Senate. That great "any other party" now has a chance to show that it is not made up of the voiceless slaves The Rep would have us believe it is.

MR. EWART, a republican Representative from North Carolina, made a speech in the House last Saturday on the Force bill. That speech will not find a very prominent place in the editorial columns of republican papers in this part of the country. Mr.
Ewart's speech gets the following synopsis
in the specials from Washington:
Though Ewart's personalities were cutting, the main interest in his speech lies in his bold declaration to his own party, that it must keep hands off the South, and mind its own business. He scathingly denounced the carpet-bag government of former years,
and protested earnestly against the Reed policy. But it was in dealing with the republican professions of friendship for the negro that Mr. Ewart was most pointed.
"I tell you," he said, "that if we vote to-day in North Carolina, not three-fourths of the negroes would support the republican ticket." Then he went on to arraign the party of Harrison and Reed and McKinley for its broken promises. As to the bill itself, he objected to it as designed only for a partisan purpose and as certain to stir up the smoldering issue of race hatred. He earnestly assured his republican colleagues that the Southern people were solving the race problem for themselves, and that the one proposed would set them back 25 years.

In conclusion, while vindicating his own independence, he declared that neither his own district nor his own state wanted such a war.

Just please remember that the above comes from a Southern republican, from one of those men in whose interest Mr. Reed pretends to be pushing his bill. It seems that the Southern republicans are not the ones who are calling for this force bill.
Perhaps Mr. Quay desires it as something he could use in the North in case the people should take it in their heads to crowd his policy to the wall.

JONATHAN ROWELL should read some
not very ancient history and learn the fate of republican congressmen who once took it into their heads to monkey with that buzz saw, a force bill. Jonathan is headed towards oblivion, and he is going at a rate
that will break the record.

True post-office trust has a candidate and now it is rustling among those who were left out in the rally to get some votes. If the trust gets only the consideration it lately meted out to others, its candidate will explore the hole in the bottom of the sea.

MENTAL ABERRATION

Causes Henry S. Evans to Attempt Self-Destruction.

Henry S. Evans, the well-known contractor and builder, residing at 1005 West Main street, was found yesterday morning standing in the water in the east end of the lake in Oakland park. He was partially undressed, had a cane in his hand and was stuck in the mud. He was rational when found, and said that he had gone to the lake fully intending to kill himself. He had been nearly helpless for some time, was old, could not recover, and felt that he was in the way. It appears that he left the house about midnight and had stood in the water, stuck in the mud, about six hours. Mrs. Evans discovered his absence from the house at 5 o'clock yesterday morning, and becoming alarmed, she aroused the neighbors, who at once instituted a vigorous search for the missing man. He was found as stated by Orlando Stafford, son-in-law of Mr. Evans, Frank L. Stevenson, R. J. Ross and others, and they took him to his home in a buggy, where he now lies in a critical condition. He was delirious nearly all day and his recovery is extremely doubtful. Mr. Evans was stricken with paralysis about three months ago, and has been in a weak condition ever since. There is no doubt that his mind wandered and that during the moments of aberration he strayed to the lake with the intention of killing himself. The idea entertained by him that he "was in the way" is additional proof that his mind is not all right. Mr. Evans has lived in Decatur about 14 years, and came here from South Bend, Ind. He has accumulated considerable property, and has always been active and enterprising. It is hoped his trouble may pass away from him and that he may be fully restored to his accustomed health.

Misses Margaret Condon, Hattie Hayden, Laura and Gretchen Seibel of Bloomington, who have been the guests of Misses May and Berline Farley, will return home to-day.

Hodgins-Hoy.

Sunday afternoon at 2:30, Miss Mollie Hoy was married to Frank Hodgins, at the bride's home, 730 North Main street, by Rev. M. M. Goodwin, pastor of St. John's church. Only the family were present.

The young people are quite well known and have many friends. Mr. Hodgins is a leader of the choir at St. John's church and is a young man of most exemplary character. Miss Hoy is the daughter of Rev. S. P. Hoy, and is a charming young lady. They will reside for the present with Rev. and Mrs. Hoy.

Lemons are High.

The hot weather made lemons almost a necessity. The price has been going up steadily until now they are twice as high as they usually are. Monday the wholesale price was $7.50 a box. Yesterday it was $10. The increase is owing to two causes, the enormous demand, and the difficulty of keeping the lemons. They spoil more rapidly in hot weather. The increased consumption and the amount spoiling has made them very scarce.

Fall From a Building.

Michael Deidrich fell from the third story of the shoe factory, on East Eldorado street, yesterday morning. He was severely shaken up, and the muscles of his lower limbs were partially paralyzed. His fall was partially broken by catching hold of a rather as he went down, or the result would have been much more serious. Dr. W. B. Hoelter attended the injured man.

The Wedding Feast.

Yesterday evening George Gels and Mrs. Nellie Skivers, of this city, were united in marriage by Justice W. L. Foster, in his office. The happy couple will continue to make this city their home, and they have numerous friends who wish them complete happiness in their new relations.

A Family Reunion.

Batchell (to happy father)—Congratulate you, old man, on the new arrival. Whom does he look like?

Father (remembering the visitor's name)—He looks like all the relations on both sides of the family—Harper's Bases.

THE BICYCLE RACES.

Interesting Contests Witnessed by a Good Crowd.

The bicycle races were held last night at the grounds of the Trotting association. A good crowd of about 300 people was present. There should have been twice as many, because the races were interesting and exciting, and the race should be encouraged. The space between the grand stand and the track was literally jammed with buggies, while many more were on the ground. Fifty-two bicycles were counted on the grounds.

The first race was the 12 miles run, for which a number of prizes were offered. There were 10 entries, but only nine men started. They were S. Long, W. A. Hoise, John Spalding, Frank Dodd, Dave Stevens, Percy Ewing, William Matthews, Ed Johnson and Chet Worsham. The race was a good one and showed that those who staid in till the end had some endurance. Three dropped out before the end, when the plucky six came in in this order:

First—Silas Long; time, 49 minutes, 10% seconds.
Second—W. A. Hoise.
Third—Frank Dodd.
Fourth—Dave Stevens.
Fifth—John Spalding.
Sixth—Ed Johnson.

The winner chose as his prize the Garford saddle.

Percy Ewing ran over a dog, was upset and thrown against another wheel. He managed to get out of the way, however, before those following him ran over him. Several spokes were broken out of his wheel.

The other race was a mile dash, in which the winner had to depend on what glory he could make for himself as his reward. There were 10 in the race, including J. W. Hardin of Maroa, Will Walter of Maroa, L. W. Hatch, Will Roby, John Irwin, A. E. Kemsell, Billy Ermentrout, Will Freeman, Troy Alexander and Mike O'Connor. J. W. Hardin came in first and Will Walter was second. Both were from Maroa. The time was 3:39.

The gate receipts just about paid expenses. It is thought that other races can be gotten up which shall be better attended, both by contestants and spectators.

ENROLLMENT.

Three hundred and ten different pupils were enrolled in the High School, 867 in the grammar, 1,939 in the primary schools. Total, 3,116, or 130 more than last year.

An average of 2,331 pupils were present every day, an increase of 69 over last year.

One hundred and fifty-five were neither absent nor tardy during the year, and 1,195 were not tardy.

The average cost for each of the 2,331 pupils who attended every day in the year was just $11 for the salaries of teachers and superintendent, and $4.09 for fuel, incidentals, interest, repairs, janitors, etc., making the total cost for those who attended all the time $15.04. This includes the expenses of the High School.

Hold Up.

Another attempt at highway robbery was made last night. This time William N. Andrews, a printer, was the victim. He was coming across the Central tracks on West Wood street, when two men approached and asked for a watch. One was colored, short, heavy set, and the other was a white man. Mr. Andrews handed the colored man a watch, but instead of taking it he grabbed the hand which offered it and pulled Andrews close to him, grasping his throat and giving it a squeeze that left marks visible for hours afterward. A struggle followed, in which it seemed to be the design of the darkey to get a good hold of his victim, so that the white man could go through him. That fellow hovered around, as if waiting for something. In a few seconds Andrews broke from the darkey's hold and pulled a revolver, which he shot once. Then he came down town at a lively gallop. He got Officer Barrett and they went to look for the assailants, but found nothing more than Andrews' tracks where he had stirred up the sand in his effort to break the darkey's hold.

Good Templary.

There were a number of visitors at Decatur lodge last night, among whom were George Howard of Toronto, Mrs. L. S. Baldwin of Windsor, W. A. Dixon of La. Place and T. S. Childs of Warrensburg. There was one initiation. Several enthusiastic speeches were made. Theodore Coleman called attention to the fact that the lodge is just 16 years old and has initiated over 700 members. To-night the Good Templars of this city go Forsyth to a sociable at the residence of J. H. Rainey. Hacks will be in waiting at Fisk's furniture store at 6:30 sharp.

The Weather.

was decidedly cooler yesterday and more agreeable beside. The hot wave seemed to be past. The thermometer stood as follows:

C. & W. have been put on as an extra crew. Increase of business did it.

Conductor Arthur Spencer of the P. D. E. had his leg amputated above the knee last Monday. He lives at Mattoon and was injured a couple of weeks ago in a railroad wreck.

There were 12 coaches on the east-bound Washburn train at midnight and they were to add three sleepers more at Forest. Passenger business on that popular road is something wonderful.

Fred Young, engineer of Washburn engine No. 80, brought his engine in yesterday morning with a patent front end. That is
